

Evangelist Alunda Quaye is a born again, spirit-filled woman of God. She is the wife of Bro. Carl Quaye and the daughter of Pastor Portia Minter and Robert Marks, Sr. and is the step-daughter of Dea. Terrell Minter. She is a native of Atlanta (Decatur) and received most of her primary and secondary education through the Dekalb County Public School System. She is a graduate of the Georgia Institute of Technology (GA Tech) where she received a BS in Management with a concentration in Accounting. She is also a graduate of the Certified Financial Planner program through Oglethorpe University in Atlanta, GA and is currently a graduate student at Louisiana

State University (LSU) in Shreveport, LA where she is expected to receive her MBA in December 2018.

Evangelist Quaye loves the Lord with all her heart, has a burden for souls and desires to use her gifts to share the Word of God through exhortation, encouragement and teaching others how to apply it in their everyday lives. She is a faithful and original member of The Christian Jubilee, FWBC (Pastor Portia T. Minter) where she has served as the Praise and Worship Leader and Musical Director for 19 years. She is also a dedicated member of the Christian Women's Ministerial Association of Ga., Inc (CWMA) where she currently serves on the planning committee.

Evangelist Quaye has over 20 years of experience in the financial and accounting industry and has worked for several Fortune 500 companies including Arthur Andersen, Southern Company, and Wendy's/Arby's Group. She is currently employed as a Senior Accountant at Change Healthcare (formerly McKesson) in Alpharetta, GA.

Evangelist Quaye is very active in the community. Over the years, she's participated in Junior Achievement where she taught math to 5th graders. She's also prepared taxes for free in the community through VITA (Voluntary Income Tax Assistance Program) as well as participated in the mentoring program through Big Brothers Big Sisters of America. Also, she's volunteered and donated to Hosea Feed the Hungry, Atlanta Missions and Safe Haven Transitional Home just to name a few.

Evangelist Quaye has a passion for personal finance and believes wholeheartedly in Proverbs 22:7, "The borrower is slave to the lender" - as Christians we shouldn't allow ourselves to be held hostage by debt but strive to live a victorious debt-free life because God's word tells us that we should be the lender and not the borrower. Her desire is to one day start a non-profit organization dedicated to teaching financial literacy to both minority youth and adults.

In addition to her passion for finance, Evangelist Quaye loves music and the arts. Not only is she a recording artist but she has sung and recorded with many local and national gospel artists, as well as, performed in musical stage plays here in the US and abroad. In 2012 Evangelist Quaye became a playwright when she wrote her first musical entitled "Love and Happiness" which she intends to bring to the stage soon.

In her spare time, she enjoys spending time with her husband, family, and friends. She also loves cooking, reading, writing and composing songs and traveling abroad.
